Résumé

Ce mémoire a pour but d'analyser si le discours de Donald Trump, sur la thématique de l'immigration, s'est radicalisé entre ses deux mandats présidentiels.

En s'appuyant sur un corpus comparatif de messages publiés sur Twitter lors du premier mandat et sur Truth Social lors du second, cette recherche examine la transformation de son discours vers un discours plus extrémiste.

Le cadre théorique mobilise les concepts de polarisation affective, d'identité sociale (« in-group » / « out-group »), de populisme numérique et de sécuritisation de l'immigration.

Mots-clés : Trump – Extrémisme – Immigration – Sécuritisation – Polarisation

Introduction

Pendant huit années consécutives, le peuple américain a connu, pour la toute première fois de son histoire, un président noir à la tête du pays. Une révolution pour cette nation qui, soixante ans auparavant, était en proie à la ségrégation raciale. Le média « The Sun » évoquait à l'époque « One Giant Leap For Mankind »¹ pendant que « The Guardian » citait Barack Obama comme étant « The American Dream »². La plupart des médias de l'époque parlaient d'espoir, de changement, de nouvelle ère et d'ouverture d'esprit.

En 2016, la présidence américaine effectue un virage à droite. Donald Trump accède à un premier mandat. Après une alternance marquée par le mandat de Joe Biden, Trump revient à la maison blanche à la suite d'une seconde victoire électorale. Dès l'élection de ce 45^{ème} président, la tendance médiatique s'inverse. Le « New York Daily News » cite « House Of Horrors »³ tandis que les autres médias américains évoque plus sobrement « President Trump »⁴. Un enthousiasme néanmoins moins marqué que celui engendré par l'élection de Barack Obama, sous une orientation plus négative, accompagnée de choc et d'inquiétude. Simple crainte médiatique ou vision prophétique pour le futur de l'Amérique ?

Donald Trump arrive au pouvoir avec des discours provocateurs, polarisants, articulés autour de cibles spécifiquement désignées. Ce nouvel acteur politique bouleverse la communication politique officielle en contournant autant que possible les médias traditionnels tout en privilégiant l'instantanéité et la visibilité accrue proposées par les réseaux sociaux. Adepte du storytelling, partisan d'un discours souvent basé sur des informations et chiffres erronés ainsi que grand dénonciateur de fake news, Donald Trump va rapidement se placer en position de sauveur de l'Amérique, notamment avec son slogan « Make America Great Again ».

Au sein des thématiques déployées par la présidence américaine actuelle, la question migratoire s'impose comme un élément central. Elle constitue un point d'ancrage dans la rhétorique politique clivante de Donald Trump où convergent des enjeux de sécurité intérieure, d'identité nationale et de rapport de force entre partis opposés.

Donald Trump présente régulièrement l'immigration comme une menace susceptible de bouleverser l'économie du pays ainsi que la sécurité nationale. L'immigration, selon Trump, devient un enjeu politique, tout en étant vecteur d'émotion et un outil de polarisation au sein du peuple américain.

Depuis que le président américain utilise son propre réseau social, on observe une augmentation du nombre de publications en ligne. Cette augmentation invite à nous interroger quant aux stratégies discursives qu'il utilise, mais également la manipulation du registre émotionnel effectuée par le président américain. Ce changement de plateforme est un élément majeur : l' élu américain effectue un passage d'une plateforme contrôlée comme Twitter, à son propre réseau Truth Social. Cette transition, moins contraignante, entraîne une évolution importante dans l'intensité de son discours et l'impact que celui-ci peut avoir sur le public.

Dans ce contexte d'escalade discursive, il apparaît insuffisant de se limiter à une analyse uniquement quantitative des publications du président américain. L'augmentation du nombre de publications numériques, liée à la place centrale de la thématique migratoire invite à s'interroger plus largement sur la nature même du discours produit. Ce ne sont pas uniquement les prises de positions de Trump qui évoluent mais bien tout son discours, celui-ci relevant d'un processus de radicalisation qui s'appuie sur des formes communicationnelles issues de la droite radicale, voire de l'extrême droite. Le durcissement du ton observé entre les deux mandats peut être interprété comme le signe d'un glissement plus profond reposant sur la polarisation et la sécuritisation.

Donald Trump étant régulièrement accusé par le public de proférer des discours outranciers et extrêmes, l'objectif de ce mémoire est de vérifier si ces accusations ont un fondement, en analysant systématiquement ses contributions sur les réseaux sociaux. Plus précisément, ce travail vise à analyser l'existence d'une évolution temporelle du discours vers des formes de plus en plus extrêmes.

C'est dans cette optique que s'inscrit la présente recherche, qui vise à répondre à la question suivante : « Dans quelle mesure l'évolution des contributions de Donald Trump sur l'immigration, entre Twitter et Truth Social, dénote-t-elle un extrémisme croissant ? »

Afin d'assurer une analyse rigoureuse et cohérente, ce mémoire se structure en trois parties articulant théorie, méthodologie et analyse empirique.

La première partie est consacrée à l'élaboration du cadre théorique et conceptuel. Elle vise à poser les fondements nécessaires à la compréhension du phénomène étudié. Dans un premier temps, les dynamiques identitaires « in-group » et « out-group » seront mobilisées ainsi que les mécanismes de polarisation affective. Ensuite, un accent particulier sera porté à la sécuritisation de l'immigration. En outre, les contours du populisme et de la droite radicale dans le paysage politique américain seront délimités. Enfin, la littérature sur la communication trumpienne sera passée en revue.

La deuxième partie présente les fondements méthodologiques de la recherche. Elle détaille d'abord la constitution du corpus de publications qui sera analysé, en justifiant les critères de sélection des données. Ensuite, elle développe la méthode d'analyse privilégiée, en décrivant l'opérationnalisation et les hypothèses de recherche.

La troisième partie constitue le cœur empirique du mémoire. Elle propose une analyse des publications de Donald Trump à la lumière du cadre théorique choisi. Cette section présente l'analyse empirique en combinant une approche quantitative et qualitative, permettant de comparer les deux périodes étudiées. Ce parallèle entre les deux mandats présidentiels permet d'identifier des évolutions, des continuités mais également des ruptures dans les stratégies discursives du président américain.

La conclusion vise à synthétiser les principaux résultats de l'analyse, à répondre à la question de recherche et à mettre en perspective les apports théoriques et empiriques du mémoire. Nous soulignerons également les limites rencontrées durant notre recherche.

Partie 1 : cadre théorique et conceptuel

Chapitre 1 : l'identité sociale et la polarisation affective

1.1 L'identité sociale : le « in-group » et le « out-group »

L'analyse de l'évolution du discours de Donald Trump sur l'immigration nécessite de mobiliser des outils théoriques permettant de comprendre les mécanismes de radicalisation. Dans cette perspective, le concept de l'identité sociale constitue un cadre fondamental. Il permet d'analyser la manière dont les discours politiques composent la société, en opposant différents groupes.

En effet, les discours politiques, en particulier lorsqu'ils portent sur un contexte de forte polarisation, activent des mécanismes d'identification, d'appartenance et d'opposition. Des sujets sensibles comme l'immigration peuvent mobiliser un aspect affectif lié à des dynamiques d'appartenance sociale. Les discours axés sur l'immigration tendent à activer des logiques d'opposition entre les groupes, opposant un « nous » valorisé à un « eux » menaçant. Cela va renforcer les clivages identitaires. La théorie de l'identité sociale permet notamment d'éclairer les logiques de distinction entre ces « in-groups » et ces « out-groups » et constitue un cadre théorique particulièrement pertinent. Elle offre une structure essentielle pour comprendre comment les individus se définissent à travers leur appartenance à des groupes sociaux et comment ces appartenances influencent leurs perceptions, leurs émotions (souvent collectives) et leurs attitudes face aux discours politiques.

Tajfel et Turner (1979) définissent l'identité sociale comme « la part du concept de soi d'un individu qui découle de la connaissance de son appartenance à un groupe social (...) ainsi que la valeur et la signification émotionnelle associées à cette appartenance. » Il ressort de cette définition que l'identité sociale dépasse l'affiliation objective et catégoriel à un groupe, et qu'elle implique une dimension émotionnelle et normative. Cette dimension subjective va orienter le regard de l'individu et moduler ses attitudes comportementales envers les autres groupes sociaux.

Pour compléter cette définition, Gazi Islam développait en 2014 que la création d'une identité de groupe induit une catégorisation en « in-group » (l'endogroupe) et « out-group » (l'exogroupe), tout en considérant son propre groupe, et non le groupe externe. Le « in-group » devient alors un parti pris qui va permettre à la personne de se définir à travers ce groupe. Islam affirme que ce phénomène d'appartenance s'accroît lorsque les groupes se menacent mutuellement.

La politologue Lisa Zehnter (2025) inscrit ses recherches dans la continuité des travaux issus du concept d'identité sociale, dans le but d'éclairer les comportements politiques contemporains. Elle souligne que les individus se définissent à travers l'appartenance à des groupes sociaux, avec la distinction entre le « in-group » et le « out-group ». Le premier désigne l'espace d'identification de l'individu, suscitant naturellement un attachement et une attitude positive. Le second englobe les groupes extérieurs, souvent perçus négativement, il se construit par opposition avec des représentations plus critiques.

Zehnter démontre que ces distinctions reposent sur les mécanismes permettant de favoriser son groupe par le dénigrement de l'autre. Les convictions du groupe partisan deviennent des éléments constitutifs de l'identité même du groupe. Cet éclairage est crucial pour ce mémoire : il invite à dépasser une vision de la polarisation affective basée sur des désaccords idéologiques pour souligner une profonde tension identitaire. Cette dynamique est amplifiée par des stratégies de communication utilisées pour creuser les écarts, qui viennent exagérer les divergences au sein du débat démocratique.

Stephen Reicher, Nick Hopkins, Mark Levine, Rakshi Rath évoquent le phénomène des « entrepreneurs de haine » et des « entrepreneurs de solidarité » (2005). Leur analyse s'appuie sur la théorie de l'identité sociale et propose un modèle de communication de masse. Les auteurs rejettent l'idée d'un public qui avance aveuglément en montrant que la mobilisation des masses dépend de la manière dont les individus perçoivent leur identité de groupe. Les leaders politiques vont, dans ce sens, agir comme des entrepreneurs qui façonnent l'identité sociale. Pour fédérer la population, le leader doit définir les valeurs et caractéristiques du groupe, se positionner comme l'essence même du groupe mais également définir les intérêts collectifs du groupe.

Les entrepreneurs de haine vont utiliser des leviers psychologiques spécifiques : la définition de l'exogroupe comme menace et ennemi, la violence présentée comme une nécessité légitime et le contrôle de l'identité de l'endogroupe. A l'inverse, les entrepreneurs de solidarité utilisent les mêmes mécanismes pour mettre en valeur la tolérance : « l'out-group » est intégré dans le « in-group » et la résistance devient une valeur identitaire.

Ainsi, les entrepreneurs de haine ne se limitent pas à structurer des identités opposées, ils élaborent également une rhétorique spécifique qui rend cette opposition acceptable, pouvant aller jusqu'à légitimer la violence. C'est précisément cette forme de discours extrême que Stephane J. Baele, Katharine Boyd, Travis G. Coan & Elahe Naserian cherchent à conceptualiser.

En 2023, ils ont publié l'article « Lethal Words : An Integrated Model of Violent Extremists Language ». Dans cet article, les auteurs construisent un modèle théorique du langage des extrémistes violents. Ils ont appliqué leur modèle sur deux groupes extrémistes que tout oppose : ISIS et le mouvement national-socialiste aux Etats-Unis. L'analyse démontre que certains acteurs politiques, tout comme certains groupes extrémistes communiquent pour influencer la perception du public. Les auteurs ont identifié deux cadres théoriques principaux pour analyser ce langage : l'approche par l'identité sociale (comme explicité précédemment) et l'approche par la menace existentielle (récit de crise et récit de solution).

Les mécanismes linguistiques mis en évidence par Baele et ses coauteurs offrent une grille de lecture pertinente pour analyser certaines caractéristiques du discours politiques de Donald Trump relatif à l'immigration. L'analyse met en évidence des similarités dans l'emploi de marqueurs linguistiques spécifiques. Bien que la rhétorique trumpienne soit distincte des idéologies extrémistes violentes, on y retrouve tout de même une utilisation de certains leviers communicationnels primordiaux.

Les quatre auteurs de l'article ont transformé leur analyse en un schéma explicatif. Ce schéma présente leur modèle intégré du langage extrémiste en combinant deux approches principales : la théorie de l'identité sociale et le discours de menace existentielle.

Tout d'abord, ce schéma montre une opposition hermétique entre un « in-group » et des « out-groups ». Les groupes internes sont associés à des adjectifs positifs, tandis que les groupes externes sont décrits à travers des adjectifs négatifs, souvent déshumanisants, ce qui produit une vision polarisée de la société, fondée sur un clivage « nous » contre « eux ». Ensuite, le modèle intègre une dimension d'action en montrant que les « out-groups » sont associés à des verbes de violence et de conspiration. Cela va construire un récit de menace existentielle dans lequel l'endogroupe va être présenté comme victime d'attaques et de complots. Le schéma inclut également la justification de l'action, via des réponses de l'endogroupe face à la menace. « L'in-group » va utiliser des verbes souvent violents, qui constituent une solution nécessaire face à la menace, cela va renforcer la cohésion interne entre les partisans du groupe.

1.2 La polarisation affective

Si la théorie de l'identité sociale permet de comprendre comment les individus se catégorisent à travers leur appartenance à des groupes et structurent leur perception du monde social en distinguant un « nous » d'un « eux », elle ne suffit toutefois pas à rendre pleinement compte de l'intensité des clivages observés dans les contextes politiques contemporains. La distinction entre « in-group » et « out-group » est l'un des principaux moteurs de dualité. Cette opposition s'accompagne d'une charge émotionnelle qui va s'intensifier en fonction des contextes politiques. Les individus ne se contentent pas de s'identifier à leur groupe, ils tendent à développer une attitude de plus en plus positive envers leur groupe d'appartenance, et de plus en plus hostiles envers les groupes extérieurs, c'est dans cette perspective que s'inscrit la notion de polarisation affective. Celle-ci est alors envisagée comme un prolongement des mécanismes d'identité sociale.

En 2012, Iyengar, Sood et Lelkes ont démontré que la polarisation actuelle est surtout affective, et que les campagnes politiques accentuent l'hostilité entre camps adverses. Ces auteurs argumentent le fait que les démocrates et républicains se détestent de plus en plus, et que cette polarisation a désormais dépassé les clivages religieux et raciaux. La polarisation n'est plus uniquement un désaccord, mais une aversion croissante envers le parti opposé. En se basant sur 50 ans de données et une comparaison entre le Royaume-Uni et les Etats-Unis, leur empirie montre qu'il y a une stabilité des sentiments envers son propre camp mais une dégradation omniprésente du ressenti envers l'adversaire.

Plus récemment, en 2019, deux chercheurs supplémentaires, N. Malhotra et S. Westwood, ont rejoint les trois auteurs initiaux. Ensemble, ces cinq professeurs étendent la polarisation affective en politique encore plus loin dans leur analyse.

Par rapport à leur étude de 2012, les travaux plus récents d'Iyengar et de ses coauteurs marquent un approfondissement notable du concept de polarisation affective. Alors que celle-ci était initialement appréhendée à travers des indicateurs relativement spécifiques tels que les évaluations affectives des partis, les stéréotypes ou encore les attitudes à l'égard des mariages interpartisans, l'analyse de 2019 met en lumière une diffusion beaucoup plus étendue du phénomène qui dépasse désormais l'unique cadre politique. La polarisation s'étend désormais à de multiples dimensions de la vie sociale, incluant la sphère amicale, la sphère professionnelle, le choix médiatique ainsi que certains choix économiques. En ce sens, elle tend à s'imposer comme une logique qui structure les rapports sociaux, tout en dépassant largement le simple cadre des préférences politiques. Les partisans se définissent alors entièrement par leur camp politique.

Ces auteurs développent également l'idée que les campagnes politiques d'aujourd'hui sont plus agressives et plus visibles, notamment via les réseaux sociaux. Elles accentuent les émotions négatives et le clivage « nous » contre « eux ».

Chapitre 2: la sécuritisation de l'immigration

Les mécanismes de polarisation affective s'accompagnent régulièrement d'un changement au niveau du langage politique, notamment au sujet des enjeux migratoires. La montée des discours sécuritaires autour de ces enjeux est une évolution majeure des démocraties occidentales contemporaines. Les Etats-Unis ne sont pas le seul pays où l'immigration est devenue un objet de préoccupation sécuritaire, on peut également observer ce phénomène en Italie ou encore en Hongrie. Ces démocraties actuelles associent l'immigration comme une menace à la sécurité, à l'identité nationale du pays, à des enjeux de frontière mais également à la criminalité et au terrorisme. Une des manières de polariser aujourd'hui est donc de sécuriser l'immigration.

Ce processus de sécuritisation va reposer sur des discours où les acteurs politiques mobilisent une rhétorique particulière qui nous plonge dans des registres émotionnels ou encore, dans des récits anxiogènes. Le phénomène est alors présenté comme une menace existentielle à travers des actes de langage utilisés par des politiciens, les médias et les institutions. Dès lors, le discours occupe une place centrale dans le mécanisme de sécuritisation car il ne se contente pas de décrire la réalité, mais il participe activement à l'orienter.

Donald Trump s'inscrit pleinement dans cette dynamique aux Etats-Unis. Sa communication politique via les réseaux sociaux mobilise un vocabulaire chargé émotionnellement, qui associe régulièrement l'immigration au danger. La sécuritisation en politique est donc un concept-clé utilisé par Donald Trump durant ses discours.

Selon les auteurs Buzan, Wæver & de Wilde (1998), la « securitization » est « la désignation d'une menace existentielle nécessitant une action d'urgence ou des mesures exceptionnelles, et l'acceptation de cette désignation par une audience significative. »

Wæver évoquait déjà cette théorie en 1995, en mentionnant pour la première fois le concept de « speech act » que l'on peut appliquer à la sécurité : « en prononçant le mot sécurité, un représentant de l'Etat fait basculer un développement particulier dans un domaine spécifique et revendique ainsi le droit particulier de recourir à tous les moyens nécessaires pour y faire obstacle. » Plus largement, la théorie de la sécuritisation permet de comprendre comment la sécurité est construite par la rhétorique et les actes performatifs se retrouvant dans les discours politiques.

En 2005, Balzacq ajoute une version plus pragmatique et sociologique de la théorie : « la sécuritisation se comprend mieux comme un processus stratégique (pragmatique) qui se déroule au sein d'une configuration de circonstances, incluant le contexte, la disposition psychoculturelle du public et le pouvoir que l'orateur et l'auditeur apportent à l'interaction. »

Dans son analyse, il pose trois conditions nécessaires à la réussite d'une sécuritisation : elle doit être centrée sur l'audience, elle doit se révéler dépendante du contexte, mais elle doit également être perçue comme chargée de pouvoir.

Dans leur article publié en 2017, Stéphane Baele et Catarina Thomson soulignent l'élection présidentielle américaine de 2016 comme exemple de récit sécurisant sur les immigrés. L'article insiste longuement sur le fait que le public reste le maillon faible de la théorie classique de l'Ecole de Copenhague. Les chercheurs ont tendance à supposer que l'audience est homogène et passive, ce qui est empiriquement faux, Balzacq avait pointé le problème par le passé. Différents facteurs rendent l'audience hétérogène comme l'affiliation politique, le niveau d'éducation, le genre ou encore la classe sociale. Les auteurs soulignent également que le rôle des émotions, notamment la peur et la colère, reste sous-théorisé dans la sécuritisation.

Dans son ouvrage « The Securitization of Migration » (2011), Philippe Bourbeau analyse la manière dont l'immigration a progressivement été intégrée comme un enjeu de sécurité fondamental dans nos démocraties actuelles. Pour lui, la menace ne provient pas de caractéristiques objectives de l'immigration mais d'une construction discursive qui associe fréquemment l'autre à l'insécurité. Cette approche démontre que les discours politiques et médiatiques jouent un rôle primordial dans cette évolution. L'immigration est associée au terrorisme, à la criminalité ou à une crise d'identité nationale. La question migratoire sort alors du contexte politique classique pour devenir une urgence de protection. Selon l'auteur, ce processus reste modulable car chaque Etat va puiser dans son propre imaginaire collectif pour légitimer des mesures de protection. Dans cette perspective, la sécuritisation de l'immigration apparaît comme un processus reposant largement sur le langage et les représentations collectives.

Ces stratégies présentes au sein des discours politiques participent ainsi à façonner les perceptions de la menace et à renforcer la distinction entre un groupe national perçu comme légitime et des groupes extérieurs présentés comme potentiellement dangereux. Ces processus se retrouvent dans plusieurs démocraties occidentales, particulièrement au sein des mouvements populistes et de droite radicale.

La sécuritisation est un concept qui apparaît spécifiquement pertinent et directement applicable au discours de Trump sur l'immigration. Dans ses publications sur Twitter puis Truth Social, Trump performatise une menace existentielle autour de l'immigration en se positionnant comme acteur sécurisant, cherchant à légitimer des mesures exceptionnelles auprès de la population.

Cette dynamique se renforce avec le passage vers Truth Social, où la perception collective du cadrage sécuritaire est déjà assimilée par le public du réseau social, il s'agit alors de consolider plutôt que de persuader, ce qui rejoint les conditions psycho-culturelles de l'audience développées par Balzacq.

Chapitre 3 : le populisme numérique et la droite radicale aux USA

3.1 Le populisme

Pour analyser un glissement vers un extrémisme de droite au sein des discours de Donald Trump, il convient de définir le cadre politique actuel qui règne aux Etats-Unis.

Au fil des dernières années, le populisme s'est imposé comme étant une clé d'analyse essentielle pour comprendre les évolutions récentes des systèmes politiques. Aux Etats-Unis, il prend la forme particulière du populisme de droite radicale, fortement ancré dans une logique identitaire, utilisant les enjeux migratoires et des discours anti-élites. L'avènement des réseaux sociaux a modifié en profondeur les modes d'expression, en favorisant une communication immédiate et particulièrement émotionnelle. Dans cette nouvelle ère, le personnage de Donald Trump est devenu un emblème du populisme numérique. Son usage intensif des plateformes numériques comme Twitter et Truth Social démontre une transformation profonde de la communication politique via les médias traditionnels. Ce chapitre vise donc à délimiter le populisme de droite radicale dans sa dimension numérique, en exposant les théories nécessaires pour analyser le discours numérique de l'actuel président américain.

Pour expliquer l'émergence du populisme, nous ne pouvons pas passer à côté de Cas Mudde et son article « The Populist Zeitgeist » rédigé en 2004. Selon lui, le discours populiste s'est désormais normalisé en politique dans les démocraties occidentales. Comme le souligne le politologue néerlandais, dans la sphère publique, le populisme est généralement compris de deux façons, toutes deux négatives. Dans la première, on retrouve un style de communication qui privilégie l'affect et la facilité. Dans ce type de discours, les grands enjeux seraient réduits à des formes accessibles où la distinction du « rationnel » et de « l'émotionnel » serait bien souvent compliquée. Cette première vision évoque alors un discours trop simple et empreint d'émotion. La seconde conception ne met plus l'accent sur la forme mais sur l'intention. Le populisme suivrait alors une logique de séduction électorale, où les dirigeants choisissent une opinion du public rapidement gratifiante au détriment d'une cohérence sur le long terme.

Ce stratagème consiste en l'énonciation de promesses, dans le but d'obtenir le soutien de la population. Il s'agit alors de promesses conçues pour séduire, mais pas pour gouverner.

Mudde élabore dès lors sa propre définition du populisme contemporain : « une idéologie qui considère que la société est finalement séparée en deux groupes homogènes et antagonistes, le peuple pur contre l'élite corrompue, et qui soutient que la politique devrait être une expression de la volonté générale du peuple » (2004). Le populisme est une idéologie particulière, dans la mesure où il est volontairement léger et incomplet. Contrairement à des doctrines telles que le socialisme et le libéralisme, le populisme ne prétend pas offrir une vision du monde aussi structurée. Il s'organise principalement autour de l'opposition entre deux figures : « le peuple » qui est perçu comme pur et légitime, et « l'élite » désignée comme corrompue et ennemie, ne visant pas à l'intérêt général. Le populisme offre donc un caractère moral plutôt que politique en axant son discours sur cette polarisation. Le populiste ne dit pas « nous avons un programme différent » mais il dit « nous sommes bons et eux sont mauvais ». Cette dichotomie rend tout compromis impossible, puisque négocier avec l'adversaire rend susceptible de se compromettre soi-même. Enfin, si le populisme émerge fréquemment en période de crise ou d'un sentiment de frustration, il ne relève pas d'un processus spontané. Le populisme a alors besoin d'un leader charismatique capable de mettre des mots sur ce que le peuple ressent sur le moment, sous forme d'expression politique cohérente.

Dans leur analyse des racines affectives du populisme de droite, Salmela et Von Scheve (2017) proposent de dépasser l'explication uniquement économique pour s'intéresser aux processus psychologiques qui lient les mutations structurelles (telle que la mondialisation) à l'adhésion politique. Les auteurs postulent que la pauvreté croissante dans la population ne génère pas uniquement de la peur mais chamboule les fondements mêmes de l'identité des personnes. Dans nos sociétés capitalistes actuelles, un sentiment de honte peut émerger de l'incapacité à maintenir un statut social ou une vie stable, l'échec est alors de responsabilité individuelle. Cette honte refoulée peut devenir un moteur de transformation émotionnelle, on entre alors dans un mécanisme de ressentiment où la honte intériorisée devient une colère extériorisée. Cette colère va ensuite se cibler sur les « ennemis » tels que les élites politiques ou encore les migrants. Le populisme va dès lors offrir une solution émotionnelle en transformant cette honte en une alternative psychologique sécurisante.

Les auteurs expliquent que les individus vont s'éloigner de ce qui leur procure un sentiment de honte pour se rapprocher émotionnellement d'identités stables comme l'ethnie, la nation ou encore la religion. Celles-ci vont fournir un sentiment d'appartenance qui dépasse la contre-performance individuelle, l'individu y retrouve des repères identitaires transformés en une fierté nationale.

3.2 La droite radicale et l'extrême droite aux USA

Cas Mudde a modernisé ses idées dans son ouvrage « The Far Right Today » publié en 2019. Dans ce volume, il développe davantage l'idée d'un populisme omniprésent dans la droite radicale et l'extrême droite. Il estime que nous sommes actuellement dans une « quatrième vague », celle de la politique d'extrême droite. L'avènement de cette quatrième vague est provoqué par trois événements majeurs : les attentats du 11 septembre 2001, la Grande Récession de 2008 et la crise migratoire en cours depuis 2015. De plus, il évoque que cet avènement est lié aux réseaux sociaux, où des politiciens d'extrême droite peuvent rapidement et facilement diffuser leur idéologie à l'échelle planétaire. Les médias numériques permettent alors de contourner les médias traditionnels. Mudde évoque les quatre thèmes dominants de l'extrême droite : l'immigration, la sécurité, la corruption des élites politiques en place et la politique étrangère (où de grandes instances comme l'U.E. sont considérées comme une menace à la souveraineté nationale).

A propos de Donald Trump, Mudde affirme qu'il s'inscrit dans cette quatrième vague de la droite radicale d'après-guerre, caractérisé par une normalisation et une intégration progressive des partis de droites radicales dans notre société contemporaine. Il inscrit cependant Trump dans une droite radicale et non une droite extrémiste, en notant que certaines de ses prises de position ont provoqué des tensions avec des figures de l'extrême droite. Mudde estime que les Etats-Unis constituent un terrain plus vulnérable à la porosité démocratique à cause de leur historicité, de leur culture et de leurs institutions proprement américaines. Dans ce contexte, Trump incarne la manifestation américaine d'une tendance globale, le président américain utilise également des termes propres au nativisme américain, en considérant l'immigration comme une menace identitaire et sécuritaire.

L'article « Du Tea Party à Donald Trump : la radicalisation du parti républicain aux Etats-Unis » de Marion Douzou (2022) analyse l'évolution idéologique du parti républicain et la montée progressive de dynamiques radicales au sein de la droite américaine depuis les années 1960 jusqu'à la présidence de Donald Trump.

L'autrice démontre que cette radicalisation ne commence pas avec l'élection de Donald Trump, mais avait déjà démarré dans les années 60, avec la candidature de Barry Goldwater. L'article met en évidence le rôle principal du mouvement du Tea Party après l'élection de Barack Obama en 2008. Présenté comme un mouvement conservateur de base, le Tea Party contribue à déplacer les idées du parti républicain vers des positions plus radicales, nationalistes et anti-establishment.

Selon Marion Douzou, l'arrivée de Donald Trump constitue l'aboutissement de cette dynamique. Grâce à une rhétorique populiste et nationaliste, Trump parvient à fédérer la droite radicale américaine en normalisant des discours auparavant considérés comme marginaux et en accentuant la polarisation politique. L'article accorde également une place importante à la campagne présidentielle de 2020 et à l'assaut du Capitole du 6 janvier 2021, présenté comme un moment révélateur de la puissance de l'extrême droite américaine contemporaine.

3.3 « Flood the zone »

L'intégration progressive de la droite radicale dans nos démocraties actuelles ne s'opère pas uniquement sur le plan idéologique, mais également à travers un renouvellement profond des modes de communication politique.

Steve Bannon, ancien directeur de campagne électorale de Donald Trump et conseiller politique d'extrême droite, a développé une nouvelle stratégie médiatique : le « flood the zone with shit ». Dans un article publié en 2020, le rédacteur du Vox Sean Illing propose une analyse de cette formule. Il souligne que cette méthode consiste à saturer les médias avec un maximum de désinformation, rendant dès lors difficile toute tentative de vérification ou de correction par le public. Cette diffusion massive submerge les capacités cognitives de la population.

Cette dynamique est également analysée par le professeur en sociologie Paul Starr, qui met en évidence les pratiques communicationnelles utilisées par Trump où celui-ci s'appuie sur une logique de mensonges pour distraire. Dans ce cadre, la désinformation permet de semer le doute et la confiance au sein de la démocratie.

Zsolt Kapelner (2021), chercheur postdoctoral spécialisé en philosophie morale et politique s'intéresse parallèlement à ce phénomène : « le terme flood the zone est une stratégie politique qui a été utilisée à la fois par les administrations Trump précédente et actuelle. Cela implique de submerger les médias et les opposants politiques en créant une surcharge d'informations et de controverses de telle sorte que l'opposition et le grand public perdent leur concentration, ainsi que la capacité de discerner clairement ce qui se passe. Le résultat est l'épuisement, la fatigue et des réponses politiques inadéquates ou inexistantes. »

Un des problèmes lié à la diffusion massive et simultanée de contenu réside dans la diffusion des Fake News, qui contribue à la confusion et à la désorientation au sein du débat public. Comme le souligne le doctorant, le « flood the zone » n'est plus seulement une stratégie de distraction politique mais s'apparente désormais à une destruction de notre capacité d'attention collective, qui est pourtant essentielle au sein de nos sociétés démocratiques.

Cette stratégie de communication s'inscrit typiquement dans un contexte médiatique et politique propre aux Etats-Unis où les médias américains fonctionnent avec une forte polarisation politique et une logique de concurrence permanente entre les différentes chaînes. Dans cette optique, l'instantanéité de l'information, le « buzz » (qu'il soit positif ou négatif) ainsi que les polémiques vont bénéficier d'une visibilité importante. Le « flood the zone with shit » exploite précisément ce mécanisme en produisant un flux important et continu de messages numériques, destinés à monopoliser l'espace médiatique, tout en faisant de l'ombre aux médias traditionnels.

Dans ce contexte, Donald Trump a su tirer pleinement profit des réseaux sociaux, notamment Twitter puis Truth Social suite à son bannissement, dans le but de contourner les médias traditionnels et de maintenir une omniprésence au sein de l'espace public. Le « flood the zone » est donc une stratégie parfaitement adaptée à l'actuel paysage médiatique américain.

Chapitre 4: revue de littérature sur la rhétorique migratoire de Trump

Pour comprendre l'évolution discursive de Donald Trump dans sa communication politique d'extrême droite envers l'immigration, il est judicieux de dresser un état des lieux sur la revue de littérature existante.

En 2022, trois auteurs publient une recherche dans le « International Journal of Multidisciplinary Applied Business and Education Research ». L'article démontre la manière dont Trump présente les immigrés illégaux comme une menace, en utilisant des exagérations, des images alarmistes et une opposition polarisante « eux/nous ». Quatre idées principales se dégagent : les immigrés sont présentés comme dangereux, hostiles mais aussi comme étant des adversaires politiques et un fardeau social. Cette publication éclaire la façon dont Trump utilise le langage pour stigmatiser les migrants, ce qui rejoint l'analyse la polarisation qui sera effectuée dans notre recherche.

Les idées développées par M. Aperoch, L. Casilac Ates et D. Ponce Corias, nous révèlent que Trump utilise son langage de manière stratégique pour présenter les migrants comme une menace tout en justifiant ses politiques d'exclusion. Sa rhétorique vise aussi à mobiliser les émotions négatives dans son électorat tout en traduisant des idéologies qui renforcent la polarisation « nous/eux ».

Cette recherche est complétée par une revue académique publiée par l'Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México en 2024 dans leur recueil de revue virtuel SciELO. L'article analyse la façon dont Trump a utilisé Twitter durant son premier mandat pour parler d'immigration. En passant surtout par son compte personnel, il cherchait à maîtriser directement son message. Ses tweets expriment souvent des émotions négatives et une rhétorique agressive envers les migrants, renforçant l'idée d'une opinion publique hostile à l'immigration.

Il nourrit une vision divisée de la société américaine. L'étude montre qu'il a maintenu tout du long une ligne idéologique nationaliste, centrée sur la défense des Américains natifs (le « nous » contre « eux »).

Ces deux travaux apparaissent comme complémentaires, dans la mesure où ils abordent le phénomène étudié sous des perspectives méthodologiques différentes mais amènent des résultats d'analyses convergents. Le premier privilégie une approche davantage empirique et le second, une perspective plutôt théorique et critique. Cela permet d'enrichir le phénomène étudié dans sa compréhension globale. Les deux articles se rejoignent ainsi en soulignant une tendance commune à la construction d'une menace mais également, à la mobilisation d'une rhétorique négative par Donald Trump.

Une attention particulière doit être accordée quant à l'origine des deux travaux mobilisés : ces deux articles proviennent d'un contexte académique extérieur aux Etats-Unis. D'une part, la plateforme SciELO regroupe majoritairement des publications issues de la recherche latino-américaine, d'autres part, l'article publié dans l'International Journal of Multidisciplinary Applied Business and Education Research est rédigé par des auteurs affiliés à l'université de Mindanao, aux Philippines. Ces travaux proposent des perspectives exogènes sur le phénomène étudié, susceptibles d'en influencer l'interprétation. Dès lors, il apparaît pertinent d'examiner les travaux issus du champ académique américain.

En 2021, les auteurs américains Matthew Eshbaugh-Soha et Kenlea Barnes ont rédigé un article qui analyse la rhétorique de Donald Trump sur l'immigration. Ils examinent la fréquence et l'impact de celle-ci. Au sein de leur recherche, les deux auteurs cherchent à déterminer si sa rhétorique virulente a réellement influencé l'opinion publique américaine. Dans leur analyse, on constate que Donald Trump a recours à un volume important de discours sur l'immigration, faisant de ce sujet sa marque politique. Cependant, leur analyse est nuancée car même si le président américain utilise des attaques négatives envers les migrants, il a recourt à des termes positifs pour parler de ses propres actions (exemple : la construction d'un magnifique mur). Les auteurs constatent que la rhétorique de Trump est un échec législatif car elle n'a pas réussi à faire passer de réformes majeures liées à l'immigration au Congrès. Au niveau de l'opinion publique, ses discours ont eu un effet polarisant : là où ses partisans sont devenus plus durs, ses opposants deviennent plus favorables à l'immigration, provoquant ainsi un effet de « backlash ».

En 2022, une analyse a été effectuée pour démontrer que le discours de Trump renforce la fusion identitaire et favorise des attitudes extrêmes au sein de ses partisans. L'article rédigé par C. Mason, D. Winter, S. Schmeer et R. Bell cherche à comprendre pourquoi certains partisans de Donald Trump développent des comportements extrêmes, notamment après les événements du Capitole (6 janvier 2021). Cette enquête menée auprès de 420 supporters de Trump (dont une partie qui avait participé à l'assaut du Capitole) apportent quatre résultats principaux. Premièrement, les individus les plus radicaux ont tendance à avoir une vision du monde simple et rigide, éprouvant des difficultés à nuancer tout en ayant une pensée uniquement binaire (le bien contre le mal). Deuxièmement, les individus interrogés s'identifient totalement au groupe pro-Trump où leur identité personnelle est fortement liée à l'identité du groupe. Leur degré de loyauté à Trump est très élevé. Troisièmement, ils ont une vision très polarisée du monde : les pro-Trump sont vus très positivement tandis que les anti-Trump sont perçus comme hostiles. Enfin, les auteurs ont remarqué que les individus avaient un lien avec l'extrémisme : ils sont les plus à même de soutenir ou commettre des actions extrêmes. En conclusion, cet article montre que les discours fortement polarisés et centrés sur l'identité de groupe peuvent donc favoriser des formes d'extrémisme en renforçant la fusion identitaire des partisans. L'extrémisme des partisans peut ici être compris comme le résultat d'une combinaison entre faible complexité cognitive, forte polarisation et identification intense au groupe.

Partie 2 : cadre méthodologique

Cette section vise à expliquer les choix méthodologiques qui structurent ce mémoire. Elle expose, d'une part, le processus de sélection des publications numériques et, d'autre part, la méthode d'analyse mobilisée dans le cadre de cette recherche.

Chapitre 1 : constitution du corpus de publications

Dans le cadre de notre analyse, nous avons choisi de nous intéresser au premier et deuxième mandat de Trump, dans le but de pouvoir réaliser une analyse comparative voir évolutive.

Cette réflexion trouve son origine au sein de l'actualité médiatique qui met en lumière la rhétorique adoptée par Donald Trump dans ses publications numériques. Celle-ci se révèle fréquemment comme agressive, parfois menaçante et largement négative, en particulier à l'égard de l'immigration et des individus perçus comme extérieurs aux natifs américains. Régulièrement, ses interventions en ligne, qu'il s'agisse de Twitter par le passé ou de Truth Social aujourd'hui, provoquent de vives controverses médiatiques.

Concernant la délimitation temporelle, nous avons collecté les Tweets issus de son premier mandat présidentiel, soit du 20 janvier 2017 au 20 janvier 2021, ainsi que les Truths publiés durant la première année de son second mandat, entre le 20 janvier 2025 et le 20 janvier 2026.

Pour l'analyse du premier mandat, notre corpus se compose de 236 tweets. Ceux-ci ont été sélectionnées grâce à une recherche sur la plateforme « Trump Twitter Archive » incluant les termes suivants : « migrant », « immigration », « refugee », « immigrant » et « migration ».

Concernant les Truths de la première année du second mandat, nous avons retenu 383 publications, sélectionnées par le biais des archives « Trump Truth », et à partir des cinq mots-clés identiques.

Chapitre 2 : méthode d'analyse

2.1 Présentation de l'approche méthodologique

Ce mémoire repose sur une méthodologie mixte, combinant à la fois une approche qualitative et quantitative.

La méthode quantitative nous permet de mesurer l'intensification et la fréquence des émotions, de la peur, ... envers l'immigration, dans le but d'analyser si cela fait partie de la droite radicale. Tandis que la méthode qualitative nous permet d'observer le sens et les stratégies discursives, notamment en terme de sécuritisation, de polarisation affective et de construction des identités sociales.

Afin de déterminer avec davantage de précision s'il existe une évolution du registre émotionnel de Donald Trump vers une communication relevant de l'extrême droite, il nous paraît pertinent de recourir à une méthode mixte.

Une grille de codage a été élaborée afin d'opérationnaliser les concepts théoriques, en identifiant des indicateurs spécifiques pour les émotions, la polarisation « nous/eux » et la sécuritisation (construction d'une menace existentielle). Ces théories sont des éléments centraux pour discerner si les publications numériques de Donald Trump tendent vers un discours d'extrême droite ou non.

L'objectif n'est donc pas uniquement d'étudier ce que Donald Trump dit à propos de l'immigration, mais également d'analyser comment il construit émotionnellement cette thématique afin de produire les effets politiques désirés sur son audience. Cette recherche s'inscrit dès lors dans une logique d'analyse du discours politique numérique, en mobilisant les apports de la théorie afin d'examiner l'évolution de la rhétorique trumpienne entre Twitter et Truth Social.

2.2 Construction des hypothèses

Sur base du cadre théorique développé précédemment, plusieurs hypothèses de recherche peuvent être formulées :

La première hypothèse repose sur le fait que le discours de Donald Trump sur l'immigration présente des caractéristiques d'un discours extrémiste. Cette hypothèse générale se décline en trois sous-hypothèses. Premièrement, le discours politique de Trump tend à renforcer une polarisation fondée sur la distinction entre « in-group » et « out-group ». Deuxièmement, il contribue à un processus de sécuritisation de l'immigration, en construisant certains groupes perçus comme étrangers comme des menaces existentielles. Ces menaces à la nation permettent ainsi de justifier des solutions extrêmes et exceptionnelles. Troisièmement, il mobilise une polarisation affective en accentuant les émotions négatives à l'égard des groupes extérieurs.

La seconde hypothèse postule l'apparition d'un discours plus radical grâce au changement de plateforme. Le passage de Twitter à Truth Social pourrait avoir contribué à durcir le ton et à radicaliser le contenu des publications du président américain. Le réseau Truth Social fonctionne en espace beaucoup plus fermé que Twitter, moins régulé et surtout fréquenté par des partisans convaincus. Ce changement de plateforme favoriserait donc une parole plus directe, moins contrôlée et davantage marquée idéologiquement. Les publications diffusées sur Truth Social mobiliseraient davantage des mécanismes de sécuritisation de l'immigration que celles publiées sur Twitter, en présentant plus régulièrement les migrants comme une menace existentielle pour la sécurité et l'identité des Etats-Unis.

Ces deux hypothèses constituent le socle analytique de cette recherche. Elles permettent de mettre en relation les dimensions émotionnelles, discursives et idéologiques du phénomène étudié, tout articulant les transformations du registre communicationnel avec les dynamiques de polarisation et de sécuritisation développées dans le cadre théorique.

Afin de vérifier empiriquement ces hypothèses, il apparaît nécessaire de les traduire en indicateurs observables et mesurables. C'est dans cette perspective que s'inscrit l'opérationnalisation des concepts mobilisés. L'objectif sera ainsi de confronter les hypothèses formulées aux données empiriques issues des publications de Donald Trump récoltées sur Twitter et Truth Social.

2.3 Opérationnalisation

Afin de tester les hypothèses formulées précédemment, les principaux concepts théoriques mobilisés dans cette recherche ont été traduits en indicateurs observables à travers une grille de codage appliquée au corpus de publications. La démarche analytique adoptée dans ce travail se déploiera en deux parties distinctes et complémentaires : l'analyse quantitative et l'analyse qualitative.

- 1) Pour réaliser une analyse quantitative des publications numériques récoltées, le tableau d'analyse se composera comme ceci :

Catégorie	Indicateur observé	Nombre de Tweet	Nombre de Truth
Le registre émotionnel	Utilisation de la peur, de la colère, du mépris.	Nombre + pourcentage	Nombre + pourcentage
La polarisation affective	- Le « nous » contre « eux ». - Valorisation du « in-group ». - Dévalorisation du « out-group »	Nombre + pourcentage	Nombre + pourcentage
La sécuritisation	- Menace existentielle. - Urgence de la situation. - Solutions extrêmes.	Nombre + pourcentage	Nombre + pourcentage

- 2) Concernant l'analyse qualitative, le but de celle-ci est de déterminer si la rhétorique de Donald Trump évolue vers un discours d'extrême droite, nous allons donc analyser les indicateurs qui constituent un discours radical de droite :

Catégorie	Indicateur observé	Exemples de termes utilisés sur Twitter	Exemples de termes utilisés sur Truth Social	Renforcement de la radicalisation du discours entre Twitter (1^{er} mandat) et Truth Social (2^{ème} mandat)

	« in-group » et « out-group »			Oui/Non
	Sécuritisation			Oui/Non
	Corruption des élites			Oui/Non
	Discours anti-migrant			Oui/Non
	Valorisation du peuple natif américain			Oui/Non

Partie 3 : analyse empirique des publications de Donald Trump à la lumière du cadre théorique

Chapitre 1 : Donald Trump comme acteur communicationnel et l'utilisation des émotions dans la communication politique numérique

L'essor des réseaux sociaux a profondément modifié la communication politique. En contournant les médias traditionnels, les dirigeants peuvent désormais s'adresser directement aux citoyens, sans le filtre journalistique. Donald Trump incarne une figure particulièrement emblématique de cette transition.

Durant son premier mandat, son usage de Twitter lui a permis de diffuser des messages courts, directs et percutants, favorisant ainsi une communication instantanée à travers le monde. Ce mode d'expression est en rupture totale avec les codes formalisés de la politique traditionnelle. Trump adopte une rhétorique accessible, utilisant une simplicité lexicale ainsi qu'un recours fréquent à des formules chocs. Cette méthode maximise l'impact et la viralité de sa publication.

Son passage à Truth Social à partir de son second mandat marque un tournant stratégique important. En contrôlant sa propre plateforme, Donald Trump a réussi à s'affranchir des règles de modération et bénéficie ainsi d'un espace d'expression moins contraignant. Cette liberté totale a entraîné une intensification de son discours, se traduisant par une augmentation de la fréquence des publications et des prises de position plus radicales.

Ainsi, Donald Trump ne se limite pas à utiliser les réseaux sociaux comme un simple canal de diffusion mais il redéfinit en profondeur les codes de la communication politique de notre époque contemporaine, en privilégiant une relation directe, conflictuelle et émotionnelle avec le public.

La communication du président américain repose principalement sur l'usage stratégique d'un registre émotionnel. En rupture avec l'approche rationaliste traditionnelle où le programme électoral occupe une place centrale, Donald Trump place l'affect comme rôle déterminant pour convaincre et mobiliser l'électorat. Dans ce cadre, les émotions telles que la peur, la colère ou le ressentiment deviennent des mécanismes essentiels pour orienter les perceptions et influencer les comportements électoraux. Au sein de ses publications relatives à l'immigration, la peur apparaît comme une émotion centrale. Celle-ci est régulièrement mobilisée à travers des références à la criminalité, à l'invasion ou à la menace que représenteraient les migrants pour la sécurité nationale américaine.

En construisant ce récit de peur, Trump veut susciter un sentiment d'urgence lui permettant de justifier ainsi des mesures politiques exceptionnelles.

En parallèle, la colère est également utilisée fréquemment, notamment envers des attaques ciblées contre les élites politiques, les médias ou les opposants électoraux. Ce sentiment contribue à désigner des responsables clairement identifiés pour renforcer la cohésion de son électorat.

Par ailleurs, l'opposition systématique du « nous » contre « eux » favorise la construction d'un clivage symbolique entre les groupes. Cette logique est au cœur du populisme et repose sur une vision dichotomique de la société, opposant un peuple perçu comme légitime à un groupe extérieur jugé menaçant. Cette stratégie est renforcée par l'écosystème numérique qui est conçu via des algorithmes pour valoriser les publications qui génèrent de fortes réactions. Un langage polarisant et émotionnel devient donc efficace dans le sens où il va maximiser la visibilité et l'impact du message diffusé.

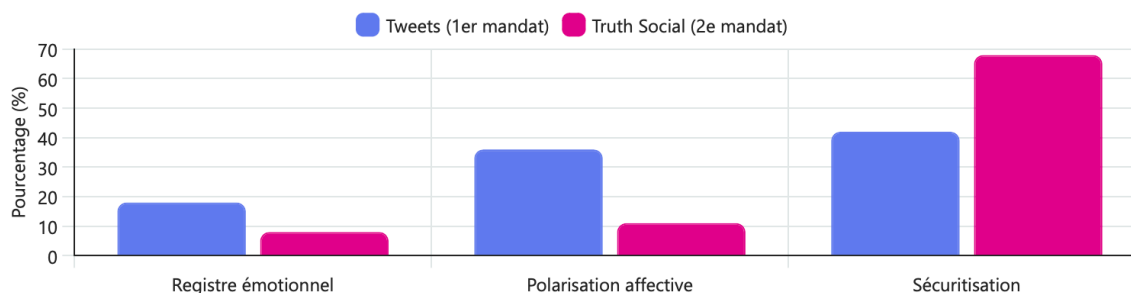

L'analyse comparative que nous allons mener entre les deux mandats de Donald Trump permettra de vérifier si l'usage des émotions s'intensifie au fil du temps et s'il s'oriente vers un discours d'extrême droite.

Chapitre 2 : analyse quantitative du corpus des deux mandats

Sur la base des 236 Tweets issus de son premier mandat et des 383 Truths provenant de son second mandat, nous proposons l'analyse suivante. Ces différentes publications numériques sont accessibles dans les annexes :

Catégorie	Indicateur observé	Nombre de Tweet	Nombre de Truth
Le registre émotionnel	Utilisation de la peur, de la colère, du mépris.	43 = 18% des Tweets sélectionnés	31 = 8% des Truths sélectionnés
La polarisation affective	- Le « nous » contre « eux ». - Valorisation du « in-group ». - Dévalorisation du « out-group »	85 = 36% des Tweets sélectionnés	42 = 11% des Truths sélectionnés
La sécuritisation	- Menace existentielle. - Urgence de la situation. - Solutions extrêmes.	100 = 42% des Tweets sélectionnés	261 = 68% des Truths sélectionnés

Comparaison des registres discursifs entre les deux mandats

La première observation que nous pouvons formuler est l'augmentation significative du nombre de publications diffusées durant la première année du second mandat, et ce sur une période pourtant plus courte. L'analyse quantitative du corpus met en lumière des transformations significatives dans la communication de Donald Trump entre ses deux mandats présidentiels.

L'utilisation d'un registre émotionnel apparaît dans 43 tweets sur 236 lors du premier mandat, soit 18 % du corpus, contre 31 publications sur 383 lors du second mandat, soit 8 %. Cette observation doit être nuancée : la diminution du pourcentage ne signifie pas nécessairement une diminution de l'usage des émotions, mais plutôt une évolution dans la manière dont elles s'inscrivent dans le discours. En effet, durant le second mandat, les émotions paraissent davantage mobilisées de façon implicite et s'imbrique dans d'autres registres discursifs, notamment la sécuritisation. Dès lors, l'émotion n'apparaît plus systématiquement comme un élément identifiable de manière indépendante, mais tend à devenir un pilier fondateur de la communication trumpienne.

La polarisation affective est significativement plus présente durant le premier mandat, avec 85 tweets sur 236 (36 %), contre 42 publications sur 383 (11 %) lors du second mandat.

Cette diminution peut s'expliquer par le changement de plateforme et d'audience ciblée. Sur Twitter, Trump s'adressait à un public plus large et diversifié, incluant opposants, médias et utilisateurs moins engagés politiquement. A l'inverse, Truth Social se caractérise par un public plus partisan des positions de Donald Trump. Sur cette plateforme, la polarisation affective n'a plus besoin d'être formulée explicitement car le clivage est déjà intégré par le public. Cette évolution ne reflète donc pas une diminution de la polarisation mais plutôt une transformation de son expression, en passant d'une polarisation explicite à une polarisation implicite.

La sécuritisation constitue la catégorie la plus significative de l'analyse. Elle est présente dans 100 tweets sur 236 (42 %) lors du premier mandat, contre 261 publications sur 383 (68 %) durant le second mandat.

Cette forte augmentation met en évidence une évolution importante du discours de Donald Trump vers une construction plus ciblée de l'immigration comme étant une menace existentielle. Le recours à des registres tels que l'urgence, le danger ou encore la nécessité d'une action immédiate apparaît comme nettement renforcé sur Truth Social.

Cette tendance confirme l'hypothèse selon laquelle le discours trumpien s'inscrit de plus en plus dans une logique de sécuritisation. L'immigration n'est plus uniquement présentée comme un enjeu politique, mais comme un problème de sécurité nécessitant des réponses exceptionnelles.

Par ailleurs, cette évolution peut être mise en lien avec les caractéristiques propres à la plateforme Truth Social, qui favorisent une communication moins contraignante. Ce réseau a été créé par Donald Trump en réponse à son bannissement de Twitter en 2021. Twitter demeure fortement soumis à des réglementations internationales en matière de modération, tandis que Truth Social se positionne comme un espace de liberté sans censure.

Dans leur ensemble, ces résultats soulignent une transformation importante du discours de Donald Trump entre ses deux mandats présidentiels. Alors que le premier mandat se distinguait par une forte polarisation marquée explicitement et un usage visible du registre émotionnel, le second mandat semble davantage se déplacer vers une communication structurée autour de la sécuritisation de l'immigration. Pour autant, l'émotion et la polarisation ne disparaissent pas mais deviennent plus intégrées dans un discours plus large. Cette évolution suggère un glissement progressif vers une rhétorique plus radicale, au sein de laquelle la construction de la menace devient un élément central.

Indicateur n°1 : la menace existentielle :

Dans l'évolution de son discours, Donald Trump contribue à renforcer la représentation de l'immigration comme une menace existentielle. Sur Twitter, elle était traitée comme un problème politique principal. Via Truth Social, elle devient plus explicite et fréquente, elle met davantage l'accent sur des préjudices négatifs réels causés par les migrants. Le choix des mots évolue pour construire un récit où il faut assurer la survie de la nation. Ce discours renforcé autour du danger immédiat sert à légitimer des mesures politiques exceptionnelles.

Indicateur n°2 : « in-group » et « out-group » :

La distinction entre un « nous » (les natifs américains) et un « eux » (les migrants) ou encore « nous » (les Républicains) contre « eux » (les Démocrates) est omniprésente au sein des deux mandats. Cependant, un changement s'opère tout de même car sur Truth Social : l'audience est déjà composée de partisans convaincus, Trump ne devait donc plus explicitement marquer la frontière symbolique entre son « nous » et le « eux » pour fédérer comme il le faisait précédemment sur Twitter. Sur Truth Social, le clivage est déjà intégré par le public, la polarisation a donc tendance à évoluer plutôt qu'à s'intensifier.

Indicateur n°3 : la sécuritisation :

Il s'agit de l'indicateur qui a le plus évolué entre les deux mandats présidentiels de Donald Trump car le processus de sécuritisation de l'immigration s'intensifie clairement entre les deux périodes. Le passage vers Truth Social va permettre à Trump d'exercer un discours libre et sans filtre, sa rhétorique change de nature : il ne cherche plus à persuader un public mixte mais à consolider une panique collective pour légitimer la prise de mesures exceptionnelles. Cette évolution s'inscrit dans une radicalisation du discours, dans la mesure où l'immigration est un thème systématique construit comme une menace vitale à la nation. L'immigration devient alors un cadre d'urgence nationale sécuritaire et de protection exceptionnelle, ce qui caractérise l'évolution vers l'extrême droite.

Indicateur n°4 : la corruption des élites :

La critique des élites politiques, institutionnelles et médiatiques était déjà présente sur Twitter, mais elle devient plus virulente sur Truth Social. Le discours de Donald Trump va davantage s'inscrire dans une logique populiste où les élites sont présentées comme des responsables directes des menaces planant sur la nation. Cette intensification contribue à une vision plus conflictuelle et radicale que sur Twitter.

Sur Truth Social, Donald Trump remet en cause le cœur même de la démocratie américaine : l'intégrité des juges et des élections. Autant sur Twitter que sur Truth Social, les élites sont perçues comme des responsables directs des problèmes relatifs à la gestion des frontières mais sur la seconde plateforme, les attaques s'accroissent davantage sur les failles physiques de la frontière et la nature accordée aux migrants eux-mêmes. Durant le passage entre les deux plateformes sociales, le filtre populiste « anti-élite » tend à s'effacer pour laisser la place un discours nativiste et sécuritaire plus ancré.

Indicateur n°5 : discours anti-migrants :

Le discours anti-immigration se durcit de manière significative sur le réseau Truth Social. Les exemples de publications postées durant le second mandat associent de manière beaucoup plus directe et crue la figure du migrant à la criminalité (danger direct pour la population et menace culturelle), sans les nuances que pouvait lui imposer la modération de Twitter. Cet indicateur est en lien avec l'indicateur n°2 dans la mesure où la stigmatisation et la déshumanisation de « l'out-group » (les immigrés) est renforcée, cela radicalise le discours de manière nette.

Indicateur n°6 : valorisation du peuple natif américain :

La nativisme américain est présent durant les deux mandats mais il tend à devenir plus exclusif et identitaire sur Truth Social. La valorisation du peuple américain fonctionne ici en miroir avec la menace existentielle. Plus Donald Trump va diaboliser l'immigration sur Truth Social, plus il crée un fossé avec le citoyen natif américain qui devient la victime légitime qu'il faut protéger. Le discours se radicalise en passant d'un patriotisme durant le premier mandat, à un nativisme identitaire durant le second.

Dans le cadre de cette grille d'analyse, trois publications numériques ont été retenues pour une analyse approfondie, dans le but d'en tirer des enseignements théoriques et empiriques :

« Now add this insanity, ONE person can vouch for EIGHT migrants. That's not election integrity. That's a loophole factory. This isn't close. This isn't normal. This isn't democracy »
(publié sur Truth Social le 5 janvier 2026, supprimé depuis)

Cette publication de Donald Trump illustre de manière particulièrement claire plusieurs mécanismes typiques d'un discours en voie de radicalisation, tels qu'ils ont été identifiés dans le cadre théorique du mémoire.

Tout d'abord, elle s'inscrit dans une logique de polarisation affective en opposant implicitement un « nous » garant de l'intégrité démocratique à un « eux » qui produit une dégradation démocratique. L'utilisation de termes tels que « insanity », « not normal » ou encore « not democracy » contribue à disqualifier moralement et politiquement les pratiques évoquées, en les plaçant en dehors des normes acceptables.

Ensuite, ce message relève d'un processus de sécuritisation. En associant la question migratoire à une menace pesant sur l'intégrité du processus électoral, Donald Trump transforme un enjeu politique en une menace existentielle beaucoup plus large, remettant en cause les fondements même de la démocratie. L'expression « loophole factory » renforce cette perception en suggérant un système volontairement défaillant, voire manipulé, nécessitant une réaction urgente. Cette construction d'une menace s'inscrit pleinement dans la logique décrite par Buzan, Wæver et de Wilde, où un problème est présenté comme mettant en danger l'ordre établi.

Par ailleurs, on retrouve ici les mécanismes propres à la théorie de l'identité sociale, en associant implicitement les migrants à un « out-group » problématique, perçu comme bénéficiant d'un traitement injuste par le « in-group ». Même si les migrants ne sont pas directement attaqués de manière explicite, ils sont intégrés dans un récit plus large où ils participent au dysfonctionnement du système, ce qui va contribuer à renforcer la cohésion de l'endogroupe.

Enfin, cette publication illustre plusieurs aspects du langage extrémiste décrit par Baele et ses co-auteurs (2023). On y retrouve une simplification du monde : distinction entre normal et anormal, démocratie et anti-démocratie. Cette construction discursive tend à renforcer la perception d'une menace ainsi que la polarisation, et à délégitimer les institutions traditionnelles existantes.

« We're actually using the laws on the books to enforce immigration law and secure the border » (publié sur Truth Social le 24 Mars 2025)

Cette seconde publication paraît, à première vue, plus modérée que d'autres messages mais pourtant, elle s'inscrit également dans une logique discursive qui contribue à rendre l'immigration comme un enjeu de sécurité pour la nation.

En mettant en avant l'idée d'appliquer les lois pour sécuriser la frontière, Trump associe implicitement la question migratoire à une forme de menace qu'il conviendrait de maîtriser. Cette formulation participe à faire glisser le sujet de l'immigration du registre politique classique vers celui de la menace, en sous-entendant que seule une application stricte des lois existantes permettrait de contrer le danger.

Dans un même temps, cette phrase participe également à valoriser le groupe auquel Trump s'identifie (in-group), présenté comme étant le garant de la sécurité et du respect des lois du pays. En miroir, les migrants apparaissent implicitement comme un élément à contenir (out-group), un désordre à maîtriser, ce qui crée une distance entre les deux groupes sociaux.

Enfin, au regard du modèle de Baele et de ses coauteurs (2023), ce type de discours peut être interprété comme une structuration plus large du langage extrémisant. On y retrouve une construction implicite de la menace, ainsi qu'une forme de justification de l'action présentée ici comme nécessaire et légitime.

« The large number of illegal migrants that came into our Country and killed people. Many were deposited from jails and mental institutions. It is a giant crime wave that is taking place in the USA » (publié sur Truth Social le 22 Juin 2025)

Ce Truth de Donald Trump constitue un exemple particulièrement explicite d'un discours polarisant et orienté vers la construction d'une menace liée à l'immigration.

Contrairement à d'autres messages plus nuancés, celui-ci réalise une association directe et explicite entre les migrants et la criminalité. Le choix des mots tels que « killed people », « jails », « mental institutions » ou encore « giant crime wave » contribue à produire une image inquiétante et alarmiste de l'immigration. Ce storytelling présente des faits isolés pour construire une image incontrôlable et dangereuse.

Dans cette perspective, ce discours s'inscrit pleinement dans un processus de sécuritisation. Trump ne se contente pas de critiquer une politique migratoire, il donne l'impression que la sécurité même de la population est en jeu. Trump instaure ici une perception d'urgence et de danger, nécessitant des réponses fortes et immédiates.

Par ailleurs, cette phrase renforce fortement la polarisation car les migrants sont désignés comme dangereux et associés à des comportements violents. Cela va générer de la peur et de la méfiance, il faut donc apporter des solutions pour protéger le « in-group ».

Enfin, si l'on se réfère au modèle du langage extrémisant proposé par Baele et ses coauteurs, ce Truth rassemble plusieurs éléments typiquement extrémisants : une opposition forte entre les groupes, la construction d'une menace existentielle et l'instauration d'un climat d'inquiétude pour renforcer la perception du danger.

Chapitre 4 : comparaison des deux périodes étudiées

Le croisement des données qualitatives et quantitatives mène à un constat particulièrement clair: le passage de Twitter à Truth Social s'accompagne d'une importante intensification idéologique et d'un renforcement de la radicalisation dans les publications numériques de Trump.

Cette radicalisation ne se résume pas à une simple augmentation du volume de ses publications mais surtout, par une transformation du fond de son discours. Ces changements nets sont caractérisés par une approche sécuritaire accentuée, une polarisation plus rigide et une construction plus systématique de l'immigration comme menace vitale pour le pays.

Ces résultats confirment les hypothèses formulées et permettent d'observer un glissement progressif vers un discours de droite radicale.

Conclusion

L'objectif de notre recherche était d'analyser les changements de la communication politique de Donald Trump sur la thématique migratoire et à travers un prisme spécifique : la transition d'un réseau social grand public et modéré (Twitter) vers une plateforme numérique partisane sans régulation (Truth Social). Au centre de notre démarche résidait cette question de recherche : « Dans quelle mesure l'évolution des contributions de Donald Trump sur l'immigration, entre Twitter et Truth Social, dénote-t-elle un extrémisme croissant ? »

Pour y apporter une réponse, notre approche méthodologique mixte a croisé une analyse quantitative et qualitative du corpus de publication. En confrontant notre analyse empirique à des concepts clés tels que l'identité sociale, la polarisation affective, la sécuritisation de l'immigration et le populisme de droite radicale, nous sommes en mesure de mettre en évidence des transformations importantes dans la rhétorique de Donald Trump entre ses deux mandats.

Réponse à la question de recherche

Les résultats de l'analyse permettent d'apporter une réponse globale à la question de recherche: l'évolution des contributions de Donald Trump sur l'immigration semble s'accompagner d'un glissement progressif vers des formes discursives associées à un extrémisme croissant. Ce changement s'inscrit dans un ancrage explicite d'une rhétorique d'extrême droite, avec une intégration des émotions dans un discours amplifié par la sécuritisation et la polarisation affective. Des émotions comme la peur ne constituent plus un simple mécanisme de mobilisation politique, mais elles deviennent un élément structurant des discours de Trump sur l'immigration. Via son propre réseau Truth Social, Donald Trump ne cherche plus à persuader le public mais à saturer un espace déjà partisan.

Les deux hypothèses formulées peuvent être confirmées à la lumière des résultats obtenus :

La première hypothèse selon laquelle le discours de Donald Trump sur l'immigration présente les caractéristiques d'un discours extrémiste est globalement confirmée. Celui-ci repose d'abord sur une logique de polarisation entre un « in-group » valorisé et un « out-group » perçu comme problématique, même si cette opposition devient plus implicite sur Truth Social. Ensuite, la sécuritisation apparaît comme le mécanisme le plus marqué : l'immigration est de plus en plus construite comme une menace existentielle nécessitant des réponses fortes. Enfin, la polarisation affective reste centrale, bien que les émotions soient moins explicites et davantage intégrées dans la structure du discours, notamment à travers la mise en récit de la menace. Ainsi, le discours de Trump se radicalise non seulement par son contenu, mais aussi par la manière dont il articule polarisation, émotion et sécuritisation.

La seconde hypothèse postulant l'apparition d'un discours plus radical à travers le changement de plateforme est pleinement confirmée. A travers notre analyse de la transition de plateforme, on constate la construction d'un récit de menace existentielle lié à l'immigration sur Truth Social. Ce recours important à un registre anxiogène s'inscrit dans les logiques de sécuritisation explicitées dans notre cadre théorique. Sur Twitter, Donald Trump évoquait des arguments plutôt administratifs, politiques et économiques pour basculer vers une rhétorique d'urgence absolue sur Truth Social. Le président américain réalise des discours performatifs qui associent l'immigration à une invasion ainsi qu'à une haute criminalité. L'immigration se transforme donc en un ennemi absolu qui nécessite des mesures exceptionnelles.

Liens entre l'empirie et le cadre théorique

Les résultats empiriques obtenus permettent d'enrichir le cadre théorique mobilisé dans ce mémoire.

D'une part, la théorie de l'identité sociale nous permet de comprendre le mécanisme de construction d'un « in-group » valorisé et d'un « out-group » marginalisé au sein des discours du président américain. Sa rhétorique contribue à renforcer les clivages identitaires au sein des Etats-Unis, ce mécanisme est particulièrement observable dans l'opposition omniprésente entre le peuple natif américain et les migrants.

D'autre part, les travaux sur la polarisation affective (Iyengar et al., 2012, 2019) éclairent la manière dont les émotions négatives telles que la peur et la colère sont utilisées pour accentuer des clivages politiques. Trump agit pleinement en « entrepreneur de haine » (Reicher et al., 2005) mais un entrepreneur qui a réussi à unifier son « in-group » sur sa plateforme Truth Social et qui peut maintenant uniquement se concentrer à diaboliser « l'out-group ». Même lorsque la polarisation affective est moins clairement formulée, elle reste profondément enracinée dans les représentations mobilisées par Trump.

Ensuite, notre analyse s'inscrit pleinement dans le populisme et le nativisme de Cas Mudde. Nos données qualitatives révèlent une évolution par rapport au populisme classique : sur Truth Social, le populisme anti-élite s'efface au profit d'un nativisme de droite radicale. La cible principale n'est plus les institutions corrompues de Washington mais l'immigré, directement présenté comme une menace détruisant l'identité américaine. Lorsqu'on lie cela aux analyses de Salmela et Von Scheve (2017), le discours trumpien sur son propre réseau social offre une solution émotionnelle complète aux frustrations de ses partisans. Donald Trump réussit à transformer une simple angoisse en une colère collective, ciblée sur le « out-group ».

Enfin, la théorie de la sécuritisation développée par Thierry Balzacq (2005) et ciblée sur l'immigration par Philippe Bourbeau (2011) est particulièrement pertinente pour interpréter les résultats empiriques observés. Le Speech Act sécurisant de Trump repose sur la disposition psycho-culturelle de son audience. Sur Twitter, Trump était confronté à un public hétérogène et à une opposition médiatique qui limitaient sa rhétorique d'urgence. En se déplaçant sur Truth Social, il interagit directement avec une audience déjà conquise, qui accepte son cadrage de la menace. Son langage s'affranchit des filtres démocratiques classiques pour accomplir sa performance.

On retrouve également le concept de « Flood the zone with shit » où Donald Trump inonde son réseau social avec un nombre conséquent de publications, sur un plus petit laps de temps que durant son premier mandat.

Apport de l'analyse mixte

Le croisement entre l'analyse quantitative et l'analyse qualitative a une forte portée heuristique pour notre recherche. Là où les données quantitatives pourraient suggérer une diminution de certains registres émotionnels ou polarisés, l'analyse qualitative a permis de mettre en lumière une évolution plus profonde du discours.

Ce mélange méthodologique a permis de révéler que la radicalisation d'un discours ne se traduit pas uniquement par une augmentation mesurable de certains facteurs, mais par une modification des structures au sein même du discours.

Limite de la recherche

Malgré les résultats obtenus, notre recherche comporte de nombreuses limites qu'il convient de développer.

Premièrement, le corpus analysé repose sur une sélection de publications contenant certains mots-clés propres à l'immigration. Ce choix méthodologique a entraîné un biais de sélection excluant des déclarations parfois implicites de Donald Trump, telles que sa fameuse phrase « they eating the dogs » en évoquant la communauté haïtienne. Le président américain a régulièrement recours à des déclarations chocs et courtes, mais qui reposent sur l'implicite. Ces publications sont difficilement quantifiables avec des mots-clés larges. De plus, notre analyse n'a pas pris en compte les distinctions faites par Trump selon les origines des migrants : Mexique, Porto Rico, Haïti, ... Ce choix méthodologique ne permet donc pas d'analyser la manière dont les stéréotypes raciaux sont articulés par Donald Trump.

Deuxièmement, notre choix des deux périodes comparées est marqué par un déséquilibre temporel : quatre ans pour le premier mandat contre une seule année pour le second. Cette asymétrie limite en partie la mise en parallèle des résultats.

Enfin, l'analyse qualitative est empreinte d'une part d'interprétation malgré l'élaboration d'une grille de codage. L'identification de l'intensité des émotions peut varier selon les chercheurs.

Perspective de recherche

Ce travail peut ouvrir la voie à plusieurs pistes de recherches futures. Il serait notamment pertinent de compléter notre empirie lorsque le second mandat de Donald Trump sera terminé. La recherche complétée permettra d'avoir une vue globale et postérieure au phénomène étudié.

De plus, une comparaison avec d'autres personnages politiques de droite radicale pourrait être intéressante pour situer l'analyse des discours de Trump dans un contexte international.

Good News! George and Amal Clooney, two of the worst political prognosticators of all time, have officially become citizens of France which is, sadly, in the midst of a major crime problem because of their absolutely horrendous handling of immigration, much like we had under Sleepy Joe Biden. Remember when Clooney, after the now infamous debate, dumped Joe during a fundraiser, only to go onto the side of another stellar candidate, Jamala(K!), who is now fighting it out with the worst governor in the Country, including Tim Waltz, Gavin Newscum, for who is going to lead the Democrats to their future defeat. Clooney got more publicity for politics than he did for his very few, and totally mediocre, movies. He wasn't a movie star at all, he was just an average guy who complained, constantly, about common sense in politics. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

A very Happy Thanksgiving salutation to all of our Great American Citizens and Patriots who have been so nice in allowing our Country to be divided, disrupted, carved up, murdered, beaten, mugged, and laughed at, along with certain other foolish countries throughout the World, for being "Politically Correct," and just plain STUPID, when it comes to Immigration. The official United States Foreign population stands at 53 million people (Census), most of which are on welfare, from failed nations, or from prisons, mental institutions, gangs, or drug cartels. They and their children are supported through massive payments from Patriotic American Citizens who, because of their beautiful hearts, do not want to openly complain or cause trouble in any way, shape, or form. They put up with what has happened to our Country, but it's eating them alive to do so! A migrant earning $30,000 with a green card will get roughly $50,000 in yearly benefits for their family. The real migrant population is much higher. This refugee burden is the leading cause of social dysfunction in America, something that did not exist after World War II (Failed schools, high crime, urban decay, overcrowded hospitals, housing shortages, and large deficits, etc.). As an example, hundreds of thousands of refugees from Somalia are completely taking over the once great State of Minnesota. Somalian gangs are roving the streets looking for "prey" as our wonderful people stay locked in their apartments and houses hoping against hope that they will be left alone. The seriously retarded Governor of Minnesota, Tim Walz, does nothing, either through fear, incompetence, or both, while the worst "Congressman/woman" in our Country, Ilhan Omar, always wrapped in her swaddling hijab, and who probably came into the U.S.A. illegally in that you are not allowed to marry your brother, does nothing but hatefully complain about our Country, its Constitution, and how "badly" she is treated, when her place of origin is a decadent, backward, and crime ridden nation, which is essentially not even a country for lack of Government, Military, Police, schools, etc...

All of them have to go home, as do countless other Illegals and Criminals, who will turn us into a bankrupt Third World Nation. America was invaded and occupied. I am reversing the Invasion. It's called Remigration. Our courageous ICE Officers, who are daily being subjected to doxxing and murder threats, are HEROES. We will always have their back as they carry out this noble mission. "In just 100 days, President Donald Trump has reignited a movement and reset the trajectory of the United States. He is a leader who is doing exactly what he promised on the campaign trail, and the early results are turning the country in the right direction at last. The contrast with the prior administration could not be sharper — and nowhere is that clearer than in immigration policy. During the same timeframe in 2024 under Joe Biden, more than 184,000 individuals who crossed the border illegally were released into the U.S. under the controversial 'catch and release' policy. This year, under Trump, that number has dropped to just nine. Not nine thousand — nine total. A stunning reduction of more than 99.99 percent..." <https://washingtonreporter.news/p/op-ed-rep-ben-cline-trumps-first>

RT @mrddmiaBiden imported--and even housed in 4-star hotels--the most dangerous terrorists and vicious gang members in the Western hemisphere. Trump promised during the campaign to send them the hell out of our country. We The People liked what we heard. We elected Trump, with an overwhelming electoral mandate. 312 electoral votes. The popular vote. Trump kept the House. Trump won a comfortable margin in the Senate. Trump is delivering on his immigration promises. In America, We The People are the sovereign citizens. We are not subjects, who get the sovereignty crumbs from government, like the country from which we escaped, declared our independence, and won the Revolutionary War. America is a radical different model, which is what makes us the greatest country in human history. Sovereign power flows from God to We The People. Unlike Great Britain, where sovereign power flows from God to the king or queen. We The People loan power to our governments, through the loan agreement called the U.S. Constitution. We don't get grants of power from a king or queen, through documents like the Magna Carta. And we only loan our governments specific, enumerated, and divided powers. One of our most crucial sovereign powers as We The People is controlling our border and population. We don't want to become Europe, remaking the population with Islamist invaders who hate us. We The Power never gave away to federal judges our sovereign power to control our border and population. Never. Not at our founding. Not after the Civil War. Not in any Congress since then. Certainly not after the last election. Biden illegally mass-imported over 10 million illegal aliens. The Supreme Court refused to stop him. Now Trump is trying to fix this for We The People, as he promised. Federal judges must understand stopping him is a red line. I don't give a damn what justices unthinkingly decided in a sloppy, legislative decision on their emergency docket, as if they were debating and passing legislation as amateur senators. There is no Fifth Amendment constitutional right as it relates to the expulsion of illegal aliens--especially foreign terrorists. Period. Because We The People, as the sovereign citizens, never, ever agreed to that. Illegal aliens only have due-process rights afforded to them by Congress. And the President has Article II power, as the commander-in-chief, to expel a foreign invasion of terrorists--no matter what any statute says. That is his constitutional duty. These judges are violating We the People's most crucial sovereign right to control our border and population. This is 100% unacceptable. <https://x.com/nayibbukele/status/1901245427216978290>

A once great American City, Los Angeles, has been invaded and occupied by Illegal Aliens and Criminals. Now violent, insurrectionist mobs are swarming and attacking our Federal Agents to try and stop our deportation operations — But these lawless riots only strengthen our resolve. I am directing Secretary of Homeland Security Kristi Noem, Secretary of Defense Pete Hegseth, and Attorney General Pam Bondi, in coordination with all other relevant Departments and Agencies, to take all such action necessary to liberate Los Angeles from the Migrant Invasion, and put an end to these Migrant riots. Order will be restored, the Illegals will be expelled, and Los Angeles will be set free. Thank you for your attention to this matter!

...Even as we have progressed technologically, Immigration Policy has eroded those gains and living conditions for many. I will permanently pause migration from all Third World Countries to allow the U.S. system to fully recover, terminate all of the millions of Biden illegal admissions, including those signed by Sleepy Joe Biden's Autopen, and remove anyone who is not a net asset to the United States, or is incapable of loving our Country, end all Federal benefits and subsidies to noncitizens of our Country, denaturalize migrants who undermine domestic tranquility, and deport any Foreign National who is a public charge, security risk, or non-compatible with Western Civilization. These goals will be pursued with the aim of achieving a major reduction in illegal and disruptive populations, including those admitted through an unauthorized and illegal Autopen approval process. Only REVERSE MIGRATION can fully cure this situation. Other than that, HAPPY THANKSGIVING TO ALL, except those that hate, steal, murder, and destroy everything that America stands for — You won't be here for long!

Southern Border, Stop Migrant Crime, Murderers, and other Criminals from illegally entering our Country, Protect our Great Military/Vets, Advance American Energy DOMINANCE by helping to keep the price of Gasoline, Oil, and all forms of Energy VERY LOW (CHEAP!), and Defend our always under siege Second Amendment, which has not been attacked, amended, or changed while I was President. Also, Jack is the Republican Candidate who is best positioned to STAND TALL against the Radical Left Democrats and, most importantly, ensure a Big Victory in this Very Important Gubernatorial Election, an Election that is being closely watched by the entire World because, we are ending WOKE, and all of the other NONSENSE that goes along with it, AND NOBODY WANTS TO SEE IT COME BACK! Jack Ciattarelli is a WINNER, and has my Complete and Total Endorsement – HE WILL NOT LET YOU DOWN. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN, ELECT JACK CIATTARELLI!

I'll be in North Carolina tonight at the wonderful Rocky Mount Events Center and, therefore, will not be in attendance at Mar-a-Lago tonight for a very special event honoring the GREAT House Majority Whip, Tom Emmer. He is my great friend, and one of the most talented politicians in our Country. As the Majority Whip of the U.S. House of Representatives, Tom is doing a tremendous job advancing our America First Agenda. He is fighting tirelessly to Grow our Economy, Cut Taxes and Regulations, Promote MADE IN THE U.S.A., Unleash American Energy DOMINANCE, Keep our now very Secure Border, SECURE, Stop Migrant Crime, Strengthen our Military/Veterans, and Defend our always under siege Second Amendment. Tom Emmer is a fighter and WINNER, and has my Complete and Total Endorsement for Re-Election — HE WILL NEVER LET YOU DOWN!

State Senator Phil Berger is an America First Patriot, who is doing an incredible job representing North Carolina's 26th Senate District! Phil Berger has served as the Highly Respected Leader of the North Carolina Senate for over a decade, helping us deliver massive and historic Victories across the State, including my six BIG WINS and Primaries in 2016, 2020, and 2024! As Senate Leader, Phil is fighting tirelessly to Grow the Economy, Cut Taxes and Regulations, Advance MADE IN THE U.S.A., Unleash American Energy DOMINANCE, Champion School Choice, Support our Great Military, Veterans, and Law Enforcement, Keep our now very Secure Border, SECURE, Stop Migrant Crime, and Protect our always under siege Second Amendment. He is also endorsed by Senator Ted Budd, and Representatives Virginia Foxx, Addison McDowell, David Rouzer, and many other MAGA Warriors. Sam Page is GREAT, he has been a longtime supporter, but I really want him to come work for us in Washington, D.C., rather than further considering a run against Phil — Both are such outstanding people! Therefore, Phil Berger has my Complete and Total Endorsement for Re-Election — HE WILL NEVER LET YOU DOWN!

It was a great honor to speak before the United Nations. I believe the speech was very well received. It focused very much on energy and migration/immigration. I have been talking about this for a long period of time and this Forum, was the absolute best from the standpoint of making these two important statements. I hope everybody gets to watch it! The teleprompter was broken and the escalator came to a sudden halt as we were riding up to the podium, but both of those events probably made the speech more interesting than it would have been otherwise. It is always an honor to speak at the United Nations, even if, their equipment is somewhat faulty. Make America Great Again!

Our Nation's ICE Officers have shown incredible strength, determination, and courage as they facilitate a very important mission, the largest Mass Deportation Operation of Illegal Aliens in History. Every day, the Brave Men and Women of ICE are subjected to violence, harassment, and even threats from Radical Democrat Politicians, but nothing will stop us from executing our mission, and fulfilling our Mandate to the American People. ICE Officers are herewith ordered, by notice of this TRUTH, to do all in their power to achieve the very important goal of delivering the single largest Mass Deportation Program in History. In order to achieve this, we must expand efforts to detain and deport Illegal Aliens in America's largest Cities, such as Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York, where Millions upon Millions of Illegal Aliens reside. These, and other such Cities, are the core of the Democrat Power Center, where they use Illegal Aliens to expand their Voter Base, cheat in Elections, and grow the Welfare State, robbing good paying Jobs and Benefits from Hardworking American Citizens. These Radical Left Democrats are sick of mind, hate our Country, and actually want to destroy our Inner Cities — And they are doing a good job of it! There is something wrong with them. That is why they believe in Open Borders, Transgender for Everybody, and Men playing in Women's Sports — And that is why I want ICE, Border Patrol, and our Great and Patriotic Law Enforcement Officers, to FOCUS on our crime ridden and deadly Inner Cities, and those places where Sanctuary Cities play such a big role. You don't hear about Sanctuary Cities in our Heartland! I want our Brave ICE Officers to know that REAL Americans are cheering you on every day. The American People want our Cities, Schools, and Communities to be SAFE and FREE from Illegal Alien Crime, Conflict, and Chaos. That's why I have directed my entire Administration to put every resource possible behind this effort, and reverse the tide of Mass Destruction Migration that has turned once Idyllic Towns into scenes of Third World Dystopia. Our Federal Government will continue to be focused on the REMIGRATION of Aliens to the places from where they came, and preventing the admission of ANYONE who undermines the domestic tranquility of the United States. To ICE, FBI, DEA, ATF, the Patriots at Pentagon and the State Department, you have my unwavering support. Now go, GET THE JOB DONE! DJT
